U. S. Prepared To Discuss New Tariff Slashes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—The United States offered today to consider new tariff cuts on nearly two billion dollars of foreign imports.

The cuts would include items ranging from automobiles to monkeys and would be part of a drive to expand world trade.

These new tariff concessions will be up for negotiation next January in Geneva at a conference with representatives of 25 non-communist nations.

The conference, the fourth since the end of World War II, shapes up as the most far-reaching since 1947 when friendly countries started their joint campaign to knock down world trade barriers.

The State Department, in its announcement on the administration's plans, stressed that foreign countries will be asked to match American concessions by opening up their markets to more American exports.

"The United States hopes to obtain, through the forthcoming negotiations," said the department, "new concessions of benefit to United States trade."

While keeping secret the concessions foreign countries will be asked to grant, the department made public a list of some 900 categories of products whose duties the United States would consider lowering.

The most important imports included on the negotiating list were Scotch whisky, tobacco, automobile, electrical equipment, manganese, tungsten, aluminum, nickel, copper, steel, olive oil, wines and ale.

Bulganin Sends Message To Ike

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Soviet Premier Bulganin has sent a personal message to President Eisenhower.

The Soviet leader also had rushed a message to Prime Minister Eden in London. Dispatches from there said it dealt with disarmament.

A copy also was understood to have been addressed to French Premier Edgar Faure.

Informed officials here who disclosed Bulganin had written Eisenhower declined to say what the message discussed.

The message to Eisenhower, informants said, was sent through the State Department late yesterday. The department quickly transmitted it to the President at his vacation headquarters in Denver. The President himself has been on a fishing trip to Fraser, Colo., but has kept in touch with his staff at Denver.

Bulganin's message was believed to concern Big Four efforts to achieve a workable world disarmament plan.

Thief Returns Polio Funds With Interest

CLIFTON, N. J., Sept. 21 (AP)—A burglar broke into Nat's Oyster Bar Sunday and took little of value except a March of Dimes polio container.

Today an envelope was received at the bar. It contained $5 and a note. The note said the container had $3.60, and the burglar anted up $1.40 more to make it an even $5.

The note, mailed in Newark, was signed, "Ashamed and Relieved."

Steering Group Backs U. S. Plea For New Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 21 (AP)—The U.N. Steering Committee today rejected Greece's appeal for a second U.N. debate on the problem of riot-torn Cyprus. It sided with an American-British plea for another try for a settlement by quiet diplomacy.

Climaxing an emotional debate on the first hot issue to come up in the 10th Assembly, the committee voted 7-4 not to recommend Assembly consideration of the Cyprus case.

Greek Appeal Certain

Greece is certain to appeal to the full Assembly of 60 nations but it is problematical whether the Athens government can get a majority big enough to overturn the steering committee recommendation. Some Greek sources said privately if the Cyprus case is thrust out of the Assembly the Greek government will fail and great troubles will erupt.

Russia, Poland, Egypt and Mexico voted to put the Cyprus case before the Assembly. The United States, Britain, France, New Zealand, Chile, Norway and Luxembourg voted against Assembly consideration. China, Haiti, Ethiopia and Thailand abstained.

Dulles Readies Speech

As the debate raged here, Secretary of State Dulles was putting the finishing touches on his policy speech to the Assembly tomorrow (about 10 a.m.). Diplomatic quarters said Dulles is expected to take a moderate but firm tone in line with the less tense international atmosphere resulting from the Geneva talks of the Big Four last July. His speech will be broadcast and televised later in the day.

Repercussions of the Cyprus debate were expected from Turkey, which opposed inscription of the item on the Assembly agenda, and in Greece, where passions are inflamed. Dulles has urged both Greece and Turkey to restore their old-time unity in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Premier Adnan Menderes told Dulles in a message that Turkey wants to continue its friendship and alliance with Greece.

Fireman Thwarts Suicide Plunge

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—A daring fireman today saved an unhappy man who had perched on an 11th story window ledge of a W. 21st St. building for more than two hours, threatening to jump.

The fireman, Edward Barbour, 47, buckled on a rigger's harness. With others paying out safety ropes, he dropped on the despondent man from the story above and pinned him to the ledge.

Police and firemen swarmed out and brought in to safety 32-year-old Harvey Harding, a Negro. In the street below, a crowd of 1,000 fascinated spectators caught their breaths, then cheered the rescue.

Truman, In His Memoirs, Gives His Version Of Tongue-Lashing Administered Molotov

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Harry S. Truman's version of the tongue-lashing he gave a top Soviet diplomat is told tonight in a personal account of his first 18 days in the presidency.

When Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov protested his sharp language, Truman said he told him: "Carry out your agreements and you won't get talked to like that."

Life magazine published the first installment of Truman's memoirs in its current issue. It includes a report on the former President's face-to-face meeting with Molotov at the White House April 23, 1945.

Truman said he was concerned about Russia's refusal to carry out Yalta agreements to bring certain democratic leaders into the Lublin or Warsaw provisional government in Poland and pledge it to hold free elections to choose a permanent one.

BEATEN WITNESS — Mrs. Mabel Lynch, her eye blackened and lip puffed, tries to recall how two men beat her at her home in East Claridon, near Chardon, Ohio. The beating came only a few hours after she testified for the state against Leo Cavey, 43, a well drilled charged with murder in the bludgeoning slaying of wealthy Alva J. Williams, 80, last May. Mrs. Lynch testified she saw Williams in Cavey's car the day of the killing. Cavey is formerly of Frostburg, Md. (Story on Page 20) (AP Wirephoto)

Israeli Troops Occupy Sector Of Buffer Zone

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 21 (AP)—Israeli troops today occupied the Nizana sector of the Negev Desert demilitarized zone along the Egyptian border. Egypt promptly accused Israel of violating the 1949 armistice agreement between the two nations.

Tonight U. N. truce organization headquarters in Jerusalem announced that Canadian Maj. Gen. Edson L. M. Burns, chief of the U. N. truce observer staff in Palestine, had delivered a strong protest to the Israeli Foreign Ministry. The protest said the dispatch of troops is a "flagrant violation" of the armistice agreement and demanded their immediate withdrawal.

Israel, through a Foreign Office spokesman, declared the Israeli troops had moved in because Egyptian forces had pulled down a line of recently-erected white concrete pillars marking the border near Nizana and had then set up two military posts in the area. The spokesman asserted the Egyptian soldiers are on Israeli soil and said the Israeli troops will remain until the Egyptians withdraw—and until the Egyptian government promises not to interfere with frontier markers.

Meanwhile, he said, the Israeli troops have strict orders to observe the cease-fire existing between the two nations.

33,523 Refugees In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—The State Department reported today 33,523 persons had entered the United States under the refugee relief program as of Sept. 2.

Nearly 20,000 more persons have been granted visas to enter but have not yet arrived. The visa figure, 52,060, represents a gain of 35,018 over Jan. 1.

Author Truman Glad Job Done

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 21 (AP)—Harry S. Truman, making his debut as an author, is glad his job is done.

Looking back at the task of producing his two-volume memoirs, the former President told a news conference: "I'm just glad to be through with the job."

As for embarking on any more literary endeavors, he said he had nothing in sight, but smiled and added: "You never can tell what will happen."

Duo Admitted Lad's Kidnap, Court Is Told

But Half-Brothers Denied Killing Boy, Sheriff Testifies

SUMNER, Miss., Sept. 21 (AP)—A county sheriff and his deputy said today two white half-brothers admitted kidnaping a Chicago Negro boy last month but denied in the same statement that they killed the lad.

Over vigorous defense objections, Sheriff George Smith testified at the murder trial of Roy Bryant, 24, and J. W. Milam, 36, that he talked to Bryant about the abduction of 14-year-old Emmett (Bobo) Till.

"I asked him about going down and getting the little Negro boy," Smith told a hushed courtroom, "and he said he went down and got him to let his wife identify him. His wife said it wasn't the boy and he turned him loose."

Deputy Also Testifies

Three days before young Till was abducted from the cottonfield shack of his uncle Aug. 28, he had allegedly made indecent remarks and gestures to Bryant's pretty 21-year-old wife, Carolyn.

Smith was followed to the witness stand by one of the deputies, John E. Cothran. He said he questioned Milam about the disappearance of young Till.

"I asked him if he went about and got the boy," Cothran continued. "He said yes but they turned him loose."

Figured Boy Knew Way Home

Smith said Bryant told him he turned the boy loose in front of crossroads of Bryant's country store in nearby Money, Miss., 2.8 miles from the cottonfield shack where the Chicago boy was vacationing. This would be sometime around 3 a.m., he said.

"Were you offered any explanation as to why he didn't return him?" Sheriff Smith was asked. "He said he figured the boy knew his way back," Smith replied.

Arctic Victory Scored By Navy

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Navy said today that it won a great victory in the arctic this summer in unloading vast quantities of supplies to build and equip the "DEW line" chain of radar defenses.

Vice Adm. F. C. Denebrink told a Pentagon news conference that it was the first time in history that the Northwest Passage, sought for centuries by explorers, had ever been used "as a passage to move men and supplies."

The admiral, who commands the Military Sea Transport Service and personally supervised the operation in the far north, said that a life was lost among the 18,647 people aboard 126 ships which took part in the three-months expedition.

Denebrink said many of the ships suffered damage and quite a few ran aground, but the repair service was so efficient that when the last of the special arctic fleet rounded Point Barrow, Alaska, this week, all but two vessels were able to head homeward under their own power.

Beautiful Princess Weds Prince In Italy

VENICE, Italy, Sept. 21 (AP)—Beautiful 15-year-old Princess Virginia Ira Fuerstenberg married Prince Alfonso Hohenlohe-Langenburg, 31, in this ancient canal city today and set out for a honeymoon at Niagara Falls.

Both are members of great and ancient families whose titles go back to the Holy Roman Empire. Dark, luminous-eyed, chestnut-haired and tall, the radiant princess met her handsome prince at a wedding in Germany a year ago. The wedding took place in the 16th century church of St. Sebastian, a church so small only part of the invited guests could enter. Among the 400 members of Europe's blueblood families tightly-packed inside 10 persons fainted during the ceremony.

Scene Of Fatal Brooklyn Fire

Smoke rises from charred wreckage of rooming houses near New York's famed Coney Island amusement park after wind-fanned flames swept through the dwellings early yesterday. At least five persons died. (AP Wirephoto)

Rooming House Fire Kills Five; Arson Indicated

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Fire believed started by a pyromaniac flashed through four rickety rooming houses in Brooklyn's world-famous Coney Island section today and took at least five lives.

Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh Jr. said he and other fire department officials smelled gasoline or kerosene at the holocaust scene.

Another fire destroyed a bathhouse in the Coney Island amusement area.

"I believe investigation will show both fires may have been of incendiary origin, and that two arsonists appear to have worked independently of one another," Cavanagh said.

Ordering an around the clock investigation, he said a woman tenant recently evicted from one of the destroyed dwellings was being sought for questioning.

After five charred bodies were found, firemen clawed through smoking debris for hours, fearful that two and possibly more bodies might be discovered in the ruins.

Five other persons were taken to hospitals with burns of various degrees.

The victims were burned so badly they could not be identified. Firemen who fought the blaze had heart-gripping experiences in reaching other tenants.

Said Battalion Chief Charles Burns: "People trapped in their sleep stood at their windows in a terrible state of shock."

"Even when we got ladders up to the windows they seemed paralyzed."

"We had a great deal of difficulty persuading them to leave the burning buildings. Most of them were elderly."

Woman Drowns In Pan Of Water

ROMFORD, England, Sept. 21 (AP)—Mrs. Charlotte Grover collapsed in her kitchen—and drowned in a saucerpan of water.

Coroner Leonard Beccle, recording a verdict of accidental death today, said she had a seizure and fell to the floor where her head struck a saucerpan of water put out for the dog, to drink.

SAGE Contract Probe Ordered

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—A congressional investigation was ordered today into an Air Force contract with private telephone companies for a vast new communications network.

Rep. Cannon (D-Mo) said the House Appropriations Committee, which he heads, will probe the arrangement. House Democratic Leader McCormack (Mass) has called it a $2,400,000,000 "bonanza."

McCormack disclosed yesterday that Comptroller General Joseph Campbell has challenged the contract, contending one of such magnitude should have specific authorization from Congress. Asst. Secretary of Air Lyle Garlock said later that Campbell had agreed to reconsider his stand.

McCormack's blast and Cannon's announcement of an inquiry carried implications that the Democrats may feel the contract has potential for a talking point in the 1956 election campaigns. In any event, McCormack called it "shocking."

The contract is for the Air Force's Semi-Automatic Ground Environment (SAGE) aircraft warning and communications network. A group of private concerns headed by American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and Western Electric Co. are to build the system. They would retain ownership, leasing the facilities to the government.

West Virginia Girl Admits Mercy Killing Of Brother

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 21 (AP)—Patrolman Tom Lopez was walking his downtown beat at noon today when a 19-year-old girl stopped him and started talking quietly.

Lopez called headquarters. Headquarters called state police and the Barbour County sheriff's office at Philippi, 24 miles east of here.

Investigators went out another 14 miles in the country from Philippi to the little house near Kasson where Louis Beavers lived.

Beavers was dead. He had been shot several times with a rifle. The girl who approached Lopez identified herself as Ella May Beavers.

Youth Movement In Draft System Is Considered

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—The government is thinking about a "youth movement" for the Selective Service system.

The average age of draftees has risen to almost 23. This makes them about 25 when they finish their two years of active service and move into the ready reserve. And one Selective Service official said 25 is only one year under the age at which most men reach their peak of military efficiency.

"We want younger men than the 25-year-olds going into the ready reserve," he continued. "We want men who can serve in the ready reserve several years before they reach 26."

The problem is now being studied by interested agencies against the background of the new reserve program approved by Congress this year. Officials said, however, they do not expect early action on the proposed changes.

Present policy is to draft from the top down, taking the oldest men first in the eligible 18½ to 26 group. "What we are trying to do is to get younger men into the service," one official explained. "Already some local draft boards are looking at the older men among the registrants more leniently, and proposed regulation changes are designed to allow the local boards to be more lenient with the older men."

Selective Service officials said the average age of draftees was about 20 in late 1952 and 1953 but has been rising steadily since then.

Miner Kills Woman, Then Takes Own Life

BROWNSVILLE, Pa., Sept. 21 (AP)—A 55-year-old miner shot and killed a Brownsville woman early today in a hotel room, then took his own life with the same gun, Coroner W. Ralston McGee reported.

Victims of the shooting were Mrs. Edith Shaver, 29, and Lester Barnes, a motorman at the Vesta Mine of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

She said she shot her brother, Lopez reported. She did not know whether she had killed him or not. Her brother, who was 23, had cancer, she said. He had begged her to kill him many times. He had been in and out of military and veterans hospitals for the treatment of war wounds.

After the shooting, she said, she hitched a ride 21 miles to Grafton and took a taxi another 22 miles through the coal mine mountain country from Grafton to Clarksburg.

Patrolman Lopez put Ella May Beavers in jail—to await the working of the law in Barbour County.

Gen. Lonardi To Take Over As President

Ousted Dictator's Military Leaders, Rebels Sign Pact

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 21 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Eduardo Lonardi, a long-time foe of Peronism, emerged today as Argentina's new leader.

Lonardi takes over as provisional president tomorrow, flying here from Cordoba where he helped mastermind the four-day revolt that ousted Peron.

The loyalist junta which took over the central government in Peron's wake surrendered to the rebels today under a peace agreement. So far as can be determined, the surrender was unconditional, but there were signs that members of the junta, including some of Peron's supporters, remain factors to be reckoned with.

Lonardi is a veteran artilleryman the same age as Peron—59. He has hated Peron for years, friends say, and in 1951 retired from the army amid a dispute over the abortive proposal to make Mrs. Peron the vice president.

Peron Rumors Abound

Rumors as to Peron's fate were a dime a dozen today, but the best available information was that the deposed dictator-president remained aboard the Paraguayan gunboat where he took refuge Tuesday.

Nothing could be found to support a broadcast heard in the United States—over the Mutual Broadcasting System—saying Peron was in rebel hands and would face trial as a war criminal.

An AP reporter went aboard the gunboat in Buenos Aires harbor. A Paraguayan officer said Peron was aboard under the protection of the neighboring country—"perhaps a bit uncomfortable—but safe."

Paraguayan Ambassador Juan R. Chavez doubted the rebels would impede Peron's departure. He asked the government for an assurance of safe conduct for Peron, and expressed confidence of getting it. The government lifted an embargo of Argentine ports, imposed during the revolt.

Political Prisoners Freed

In the course of the revolt the rebels demanded a peace condition that Peron be handed over to them. But there was no mention of this condition in today's announcement of the new provisional government—perhaps because conditions changed when Peron obtained asylum in the Paraguayan Embassy and later went aboard the small gunboat.

The announcement of a peace agreement said the two sides had reached complete accord, with the loyalist junta accepting the points stipulated by the rebels.

Prison gates began opening for scores of persons Peron had jailed on political charges. The leaders of the June 16 revolt were ordered freed immediately. Two federal judges ordered the release of all political prisoners they were holding for trial—number unspecified.

Blanket Is Clue In Kidnap Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21 (AP)—New clues—one a blanket—and rewards of $5,000 stepped up the spreading search for a 4-day-old baby stolen by a buxom blonde woman from a hospital maternity ward.

Fears for the life of the breast-fed baby, son of a hospital doctor, increased. Hundreds of police still sought desperately for the woman who took the child, presumably because of a "mothering urge."

The little blanket, of a type used at Mt. Zion Hospital where 6-pound Robert Marcus was taken from his crib Monday, was found in San Jose, 50 miles south of San Francisco. It was picked up in a yard only four blocks from a house where a buxom woman carrying a baby stopped yesterday and asked to have a bottle of milk heated.

A check of blankets used at Mt. Zion turned up one that matched closely the one found in San Jose. Friends and relatives of the distraught parents, Dr. and Mrs. Sanford Marcus, collected $4,000 to offer as rewards. The money was added to $1,000 previously posted by the president of the hospital's Board of Directors.

Farm Price Support Losses Set Record

Cost Reaches Daily Average Of 2 Million

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Government losses in carrying out price supports on farm surpluses were greater during the past two fiscal years than in the preceding 18 years of federal farm aid programs.

The Agriculture Department reported today that losses during the fiscal year ending last June 30 reached a record annual high of $799,061,000 or a daily average of more than two million dollars.

In the previous fiscal year the losses were $419,477,000, thus bringing the total cost to the Treasury for the two years to $1,218,538,000.

From the start of price support operations in the 1936 fiscal year through the 1953 fiscal year the losses totaled $1,110,000,000.

The losses were incurred largely from the sale of government-owned surplus farm products for less than their cost under price support operations, or from outright donations for welfare use in this country and abroad.

These loss figures do not include expenditures on other farm aid programs, such as subsidies for soil conservation, production payments for sugar, drought aid and other emergency programs and the cost of administering production control and other programs.

Losses on price supports have been particularly heavy during the past two years because of efforts of the administration to dispose of surpluses which have been accumulating during the past five years.

Soviet Appeals Worry Refugees But Drive Flops

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 21 (AP)—The "come home" campaign by Soviet Russia and East European satellites is disturbing refugees in the West. But Western experts say the number of exiles who have returned is small.

One American official estimates that not more than 150 exiles have defected from West Germany, their major haven where they had been hoping for resettlement in the United States or elsewhere.

British intelligence says only a "trickle" have gone back.

The "come home" appeals, stepped up in recent months, are made by letter, radio, advertisements in Western newspapers and even by personal visits. They promise "forgiveness" and a good life back home.

Refugee officials contend that the main effect of the Communist propaganda drive is to arouse doubt and fear among exiles, many of them frustrated after long delays in resettlement.

Birds, Beasts Aid Lovesick Camel

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 21 (AP)—The birds and beasts are flocking to the aid of Cecil, the lovesick camel.

Cecil is the lone camel in the Dade County Zoo at Crandon Park on Key Biscayne. He appeared to be ailing recently, and a veterinarian examined him.

Nothing wrong with Cecil except lovesickness, said the vet. He longed for a wife.

A fund was started to buy Cecil a mate. People gave some money. Then someone got the idea of letting his pet send in a few pennies.

To date, 53 parakeets have donated $17.80 to Cecil's bridal fund. Twenty-six dogs contributed $5.76; one monkey $2; eight cats $1.10; one parrot $3; one guinea pig $10; two canaries 20 cents; one turkey 15 cents; a screech owl 25 cents and three wild birds 20 cents.

Cecil's bridal fund now totals $743.26, about half what's needed.

Woman Motorist Robbed Of $2,010

PORT DEPOSIT, Md., Sept. 21 (AP)—State Police and armed sailors, aided by bloodhounds, searched a swampy wooded area near here today for a man who robbed a woman motorist of $2,010.

Details of the robbery were sketchy.

However, State Police at Conowingo said the robbery was reported by Rheba Josephine Ratledge, 35, of Port Deposit.

The woman was riding along Woodlawn Road near the Bainbridge Naval Training Station, police said, when a knife was placed at her back by a man who apparently had hidden in the car.

She reported that after he took the money, he jumped out of the car and fled into the swamp.

Mrs. Ratledge described him as a short swarthy white man with hairy arms. She said he was about 5 feet 7 and weighed 130 to 140 pounds.

He was wearing dungarees and a white T-shirt.

Russians Donate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Russian Red Cross and Red Crescent societies have contributed $25,000 to the American National Red Cross to aid the sufferers in the flood and hurricane-damaged sections of the eastern United States.

By means of canals from Lake Michigan to the Illinois river, small boats can go by water into the Mississippi river, right down to New Orleans.

Fellow Captives Say Maj. Alley Took Red Line

FT. MEADE, Md., Sept. 21 (AP)—Maj. Ronald E. Alley was described today as an exponent of the Communist propaganda line while a prisoner of the enemy in Korea.

Former fellow prisoners at the notorious camp No. 5, including an officer in the Army, one in the Marine Corps and one from the Air Force, said the 34-year-old artillery officer from Bar Harbor, Maine, led propaganda discussions and passed information to the enemy.

One of his rewards, they said, was transfer to living quarters in the Chinese Communist headquarters outside the confines of the prison compound.

Alley is on trial before a general court martial on charges that he was guilty of misconduct while a prisoner.

Air Force Capt. Hamilton B. Shaw of Gardnerville, Nev., who is stationed at George Air Force Base, Calif., said Alley was political education chairman of the "Daily Life Committee," an organization set up by the Communists to run the officers' compound at camp 5.

He said Alley led reading and discussion groups about communism and was cheer leader at a Communist sponsored "peace parade."

He said at the parade Alley shouted such things as: "We want peace!" "Down with the Wall Street warmongers!"

The other prisoners shouted back: "We want beef!" "Long live our reactionary leaders!"

He said Alley appeared "angry and agitated when we did not cooperate."

Vicki The Elephant Finally Captured

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 21 (AP)—Vicki the elephant was captured here today by a posse of more than 30 men who chased her for nearly two hours.

The posse, including volunteer firemen and county police who were off duty, chased Vicki from her lush wooded hideout where she had holed up for 12 days. They surrounded her and roped her some four miles from the wooded area.

Banker Gets 5-Year Term For Shortage Of $99,000

BALTIMORE, Sept. 21 (AP)—William Arthur Leffler, one-time mayor of Havre de Grace, Md., and executive vice-president of its Citizens National Bank, today was sentenced to five years in prison for a $99,000 shortage.

He is 79 years old, but the fact did not save him from a prison sentence. Federal Judge W. Calvin Chesnut, who is 83 himself, also imposed a $10,000 fine.

Leffler was charged specifically with making false entries in the bank's records to cover up shortages which he acknowledged had been building up over a 20-year span.

He pleaded guilty to the charge. It came out in the proceedings that Leffler tried to shoot himself when the shortage first was suspected last year.

William C. Bechtold, another official of the bank, was convicted last week of making one false entry which figured in Leffler's speculations. He has not yet been sentenced.

Grunewald Invited To Hearing For Cops

BALTIMORE, Sept. 21 (AP)—Police Commissioner James M. Hepbron today invited Henry (The Dutchman) Grunewald to come over from Washington tomorrow for a hearing for two policemen charged with accepting a $75 gift from him.

It was really a little stronger than an invitation. It was a summons, all decked out in the prescribed legal verbiage. Hepbron sent Inspector August Gribben over to Washington to serve it on Grunewald.

But, alas, it is a Maryland summons. It has no legal force or effect in the District of Columbia. The policemen in trouble are Sgt. James J. Purcell, acting desk officer, and patrolman Michael G. Gumpman, turnkey at the central district station house.

HAIR EXPERT HERE TOMORROW

Trichologist G. S. Bishop uses scalp diagram to point out causes of hair loss to balding client. Bishop's organization is sending a specialist here to advise men how to correct hair troubles by home treatment.

Basic Principle of Hair Loss and Growth Revealed by Expert

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — New home treatment methods for growing thicker hair — and preventing baldness — will be demonstrated in Cumberland, Md., this Friday, September 23.

Trichologist J. M. Walker, of the famous Bishop Hair Experts organization, will be in charge. He will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. Friday at the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

19 Years Experience
G. S. Bishop, founder of the Bishop Hair Experts, has had more than 19 years experience studying — and correcting — hair problems. He summarizes his thousands of case histories in one simple matter-of-fact statement: "The healthy scalp grows healthy hair — naturally!"

"It seems so obvious," says Bishop, "you might think no intelligent person would deny the truth. But when you accept it, you must rule out practically all the common beliefs about baldness."

"For instance, most people are convinced that baldness is hereditary — runs in families," so speak. Yet I've never heard anyone argue that you can inherit an unhealthy scalp. So you can't very well inherit baldness, can you?"

Baldness Due To Age?
Bishop has an impressive record to back up his conclusions. More than 95% of those he treats are satisfied. He has permanent offices in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and New York. You'll find hardly a city or town in the Eastern and Middle-Western states covered by out a special home care procedure. Bishop trichologists that doesn't tell you what to do and what have several satisfied Bishop not to do for the good of your hair.

"Another common idea," says Bishop, "is that a man just naturally loses his hair as he gets requires a special treatment." older. Why should he? Men's hair grows fastest between the ages of treatment must be changed after 35 and 60. ## Two Bus Drivers Fined For Speeding

BALTIMORE, Sept. 21 (AP)—Two bus drivers-fined today for speeding blamed it on tight schedules and no speedometers.

The judge said he was surprised the buses didn't have speedometers.

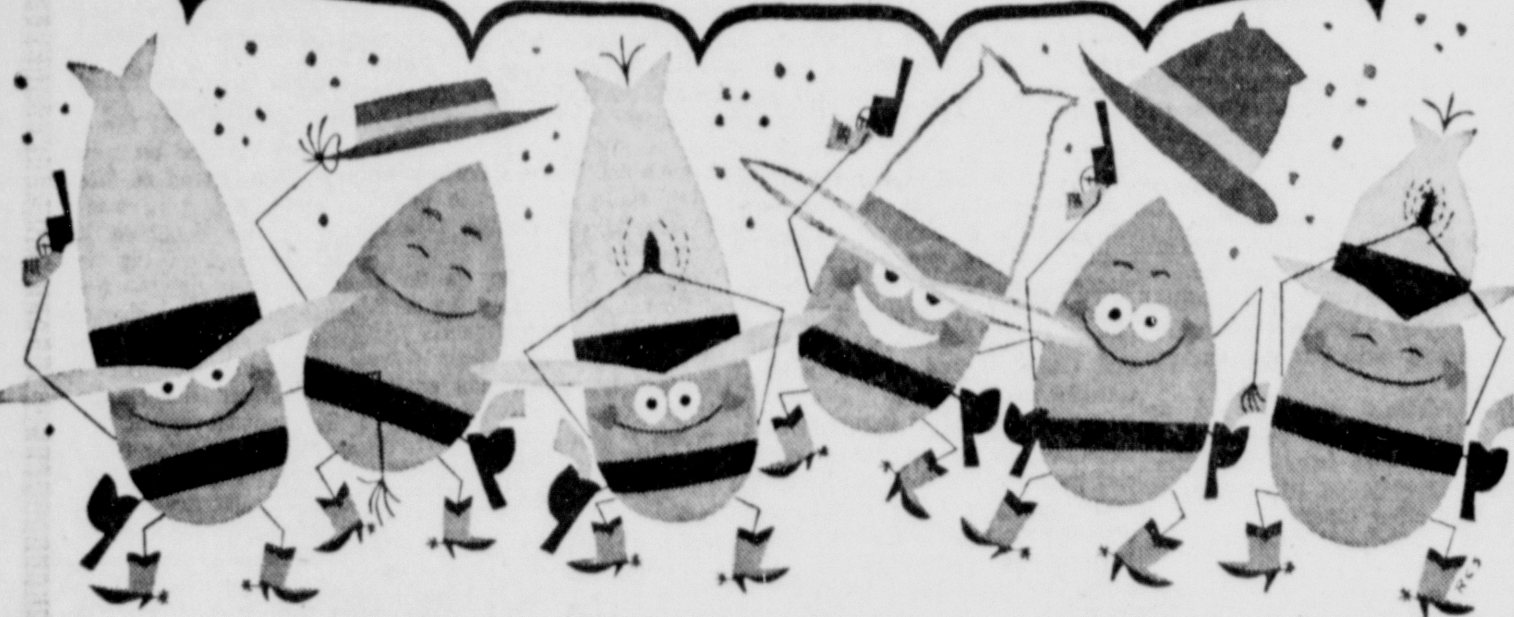

A spokesman for the Baltimore Transit Co. said the schedules were not too tight. As for speedometers, he said the company does not feel they are needed. A driver, he said, should be able to estimate his speed and could get an idea of it by checking time points on the schedule.

Traffic Court Magistrate Stanley Scherr, fined BTC drivers John Wychailis and James M. W. Zeiler, $5, saying they were "victims of circumstances." They were accused of doing 50 miles an hour in a 30-mile-an-hour zone last August.

Truman, In His

give him my support before the convention," but "Roosevelt and the convention ruled otherwise." "I thought my calling on him at this time might balance things up," Truman commented on the appointment. Byrnes quit the Cabinet in 1947, assigning health as his reason. Subsequently he and Truman engaged in bitter exchanges of criticism, and Byrnes supported Dwight D. Eisenhower for president in 1952.

Phone Call To Churchill

Truman gives an account of his first transatlantic telephone conversation with Winston Churchill, then the British Prime Minister, in which they agreed to reject a German surrender offer in April, 1945, unless it was unconditional and offered also to Russia.

He praises the late Republican Sen. Robert A. Taft as "a highly ethical, straightforward and honorable man." He described Taft as "a violent partisan" with a "sense of dynasty."

"Like John Quincy Adams and Benjamin Harrison, he wanted to keep the presidency in the family," Truman wrote.

Missing from Truman's account of the White House talk with Molotov is the exact language used by the usually blunt-speaking Missourian.

Jonathan Daniels, in his "Man of Independence," said one of those present described it as "blunt language unadorned by the polite verbiage of diplomacy."

Daniels said it was "the natural language of a direct politician to men whom he recognized as politicians, too." He said Russian Ambassador Gromyko and a Soviet interpreter, Secretary Stettinius and Charles "Chip" Bohlen, now U. S. ambassador to Russia, were present at the interview.

When Molotov arrived at the White House, en route to the post war security conference at San Francisco, Truman said he told him this country wanted Russia to "carry out the Crimean decision on Poland."

Truman's Replies Sharp

He quoted Molotov as saying he was convinced all difficulties could be overcome.

"I replied sharply that an agreement had been reached on Poland and that there was only one thing to do and that was for Marshal Stalin to carry out that agreement in accordance with his word," Truman continued.

He said Molotov replied that Stalin had given his views on the agreement on April 7 and he, Molotov, could not understand why the United States, Britain and Russia couldn't agree on a formula for Poland such as they had used in the case of Yugoslavia.

"Replying sharply again," Truman recounted, "I said that an agreement had been reached on Poland and that it only required to be carried out by the Soviet government."

"I expressed once more the desire of the United States for friendship with Russia, but I wanted it clearly understood that this could only be on a basis of the mutual observation of agreements and not on the basis of a one-way street."

"I have never been talked to like that in my life," Molotov said. "I told him, 'carry out your agreements and you won't get talked to like that.'"

It was on April 13, Truman said, that military leaders told him Germany would last another six months, Japan a year and a half. Germany surrendered a month later. Japan collapsed in August after he ordered the use of the atomic bomb.

Truman said he got his "first bit of information" on the atomic bomb from Henry L. Stimson, then secretary of war. And it was Dr. Vannevar Bush, head of the Office of Scientific Research and Development, who gave him a scientific explanation of the new weapon.

He recalls Fleet Adm. William D. Leahy, who was his, as well as Roosevelt's chief of staff, as saying in his "sturdy, salty" manner:

"That is the biggest fool thing we have ever done. The bomb will never go off, and I speak as an expert on explosives."

Truman says Averell Harriman, then ambassador to Russia and now governor of New York, warned him at the outset that "Stalin is breaking his agreements." And Harriman told him there were a number of Russian officials who had the weird idea that "it was a matter of life and death" to American business to "increase our exports to Russia."

Truman quoted Harriman as saying he was "greatly relieved" to know they saw "eye-to-eye" on the necessity for dealing with Russia on a firm "give-and-take basis." The first telephone talk with Churchill, on April 25, dealt with a surrender offer, relayed through Sweden, by Heinrich Himmler, the German gestapo chief. Truman, writing from the telephone recording, reported asking

Churchill, "What has he (Himmler) to surrender?" Churchill said Italy and Yugoslavia were mentioned, and added: "We mentioned everything and have included that to take in Denmark and Norway." He said Himmler "hasn't proposed to surrender on the eastern front." The conversation went on: "Truman: I think he should be forced to surrender to all three governments.—Russia, you and the United States. I don't think we ought to consider a piece-meal surrender." Churchill concurred and Truman then agreed to notify Stalin of their decision in virtually the same language. Toward the close, this exchange took place: "Churchill: I am planning to see you some day soon . . . We are walking hand-in-hand together. "Truman: Well, I want to continue just that. "Churchill: In fact, I am following your lead, backing up whatever you do on the matter. "Truman: Thank you. Good night." Truman tells of writing letters to his mother, who died while he was in office, and his sister, Mary Jane, in Grandview, Mo. His account of how he was called on the telephone at Speaker Rayburn's office the late afternoon of April 12 and ordered to go "quickly and quietly" to the White House has been told many times.

For the first time, Truman reveals his account of part of that eventful day as he wrote it to his mother and sister: "Mrs. Roosevelt put her arm on my shoulder and said, 'Harry, the President is dead.' "It was the only time in my life, I think, that I ever felt as if I'd had a real shock. I had hurried to the White House to see the President, and when I arrived, I found out I was the President . . ."

LaVale Water Rate To Be Increased

A slight increase in water rates for consumers supplied by the LaVale Sanitary Commission was tentatively agreed upon at a meeting of the commission Tuesday in the LaVale Fire Hall.

According to a commission spokesman, the rate boost will be $2 annually. This is the effect of the 3 1/2 per cent increase that the City of Cumberland placed on water being sold to the LaVale commission.

The $2 hike will just meet the increased costs of the city water, the spokesman said.

The commission also decided to change the billing system from semi-annual to quarterly. The first bill with the new rates will be for January through March and will be mailed in April.

Work At LaVale Fire Hall Under Way

The LaVale Volunteer Fire Company has let the contract for the construction of an addition to the fire hall engine room.

Cromwell C. Zembower, president, said J. C. Buckley and Son, who were awarded the job, are well on the way with the new addition and will have the annex under roof before cold weather sets in.

Zembower also reported the company is in the midst of canvassing the area it protects for the annual fund drive.

This money goes toward the operation and maintenance of the fire fighting unit, he said.

The drive will continue through September 30 in the section from Locust Grove to the Winchester Road railroad bridge, and from Red Hill to the city line on Braddock Road.

Although skunks sometimes destroy birds, they are regarded as valuable for destruction of crop pests.

Over 360 Adults Register For Night School Courses

There were 368 adults registering at six centers in Allegany County Tuesday for night school courses sponsored by the Board of Education, according to J. D. Lonnholm, supervisor of industrial arts and vocational education for the board.

Today from 7 to 9 p. m. adults will have another opportunity to sign up for the night classes. Centers are at Fort Hill High School, Beall High School, Frostburg; Mt. Savage School, Valley High School in Lonaconing, Bruce High School, Westernport, and Cresaptown School.

All persons over 16 years of age who are not attending high school are eligible to take the many courses offered. A minimum of 15 adults is required for each class. There are vacancies in every class, Lonnholm said.

The highest registration Tuesday night was at Fort Hill when 246 signed up. The most interest was shown in beginning typing with 28 persons registering for that course. The next highest registration was for the course in high school subjects of English, mathematics and general science. These are to prepare those who wish to take the high school equivalence examination.

Three Youths Given Terms

Three Lonaconing area boys were sentenced to the Maryland Training School for Boys yesterday morning at a hearing in Juvenile Court.

Judge Morris Baron sentenced the three, ranging in age from 13 to 16, for stealing a total of $85 from the home of William H. McKenzie, Klondyke, last Sunday night.

TFC Harry Bosley of the Maryland State Police, who investigated, said the teen-agers gained entrance to McKenzie's home after dark through a second-floor window. After roaming through the upstairs, the three came to the first floor where they broke into a cupboard which contained a coin collection owned by McKenzie. Trooper Bosley said.

State Teachers College Dining Hall Approved

Planning Board
Okays $442,000

FROSTBURG—The State Planning Commission has granted approval to the State Department of Education to spend $442,000 for a dining hall-union building at Frostburg State Teachers College.

This figure was included in the $1,287,000 approved for capital improvements at Frostburg, Bowie, Salisbury and Towson state teachers college during the 1957 fiscal year.

The Frostburg college, according to R. Bowen Hardesty, president, had asked $450,000 for the dining hall-union building, $500,000 for a new laboratory school, and $600,000 for improvement of physical education and health areas.

The $442,000 figure for the dining hall-union building will be submitted to the General Assembly for approval during next year's 30-day session.

The sum was included in capital improvements totaling $8,023,415 for 12 different State agencies and institutions approved by the commission.

The sum approved represents about a third of the requests totaling $26,379,668 made during the summer by 15 agencies.

The biggest single recommendation was for expenditure of $1,462,063 by the Department of Correction for the new Patuxent Institution for defective delinquents and other smaller projects.

The University of Maryland got approval for $1,151,840 to buy land and build a library in Baltimore.

The Department of Welfare received approval to spend a total of $1,023,600—some $650,000 of it for a children's study center.

Other expenditures meeting with commission approval:

Military Department, $450,000; Civil Defense agency, $85,000; Department of Forest and Parks, $352,900; State Police, $179,340; Department of Health, $777,179; Department of Mental Hygiene, $531,463; Morgan State College, $253,300, and St. Mary's Seminary Junior College, $44,730.

Keyser Council Will Regulate Garbage Dump

Ordinance Passed
Covering Problem

KEYSER—An emergency ordinance was passed by the Mayor and Council Tuesday afternoon, governing dumping and waste disposal at the "City Dump" on Waxler Road, just outside the town's limits.

The new ordinance governs the operation of the dump and collection and disposal of all refuse matter. The ordinance, prepared by City Attorney Charles Smith, was read in its entirety and adopted with only minor changes. It specifies that refuse matter is to be delivered to the dump only during day time working hours that are specified as the time when the attendant at the dump is available.

Night disposal of refuse matter on the grounds will be unlawful. Persons outside the city will be required to pay for disposal, the same fees charged local persons. The rate for disposal of refuse matters on the ground will be charged according to the weight of the vehicles. Specified charges are set up in the ordinance.

The ordinance provides that payment, for the time being, may be made at the grounds to the keeper. However, plans are being made for supplying rate cards prepared for loads at a given price, and they may be purchased from the city clerk. Later the system may be made so that cards may be purchased and charges paid at the city office to avoid loss of time of persons delivering refuse matter at the dump where the attendant may be busy.

The ordinance provides that it will be unlawful for any resident of Keyser to have refuse or garbage open on their property. In the plan for enforcement, the ordinance provides for a fine of from $1. to $100 for violation, or imprisonment in the county jail of from one to 30 days for each offense.

The offer is for the following: Education 304—Remedial Techniques in Elementary School subjects, two hours.

Education 307 — Health and Science in Elementary School, two hours.

Education 335—The Elementary School Curriculum, two hours.

One of these courses has started last Thursday, taught by L. T. Fish.

Then there will be History 220—Latin-American history; Colonial Period and Wars of Independence, two hours.

History 250—Economic and Social Development of West Virginia, three hours.

History 260—American Diplomacy to 1898, two hours.

Two courses will be taught by John A. Caruso.

Unemployment Claims Low

BALTIMORE, Sept. 21 (AP)—New claims for unemployment benefits were at their lowest point in more than two years in Maryland last week. The Employment Security Department said only 1,523 workers filed new applications for benefits.

Only once since 1953, Maryland's best post-war employment year, has the figure been lower. That was in the second week of June, 1953, when 1,522 applied for benefits.

Last week's figure might have been still lower except for the fact that a firm doing technical work for the government at Camp Detrick lost its contract.

As a result, 117 workers applied for unemployment compensation at Frederick. The number of new claims there has averaged 50 to 60 during the past several weeks.

The department's weekly report disclosed that it paid $191,952 last week to 8,183 persons who are without jobs. Both figures were the lowest since October of 1953.

By contrast, in the spring of 1954, when the national "rolling readjustment" of the economic community hit its peak in Maryland, as much as $800,000 was paid out in a week to 33,000 claimants.

Frostburg Area Property Sold

The deed to a parcel of land valued at about $13,500 located in Grahamtown was filed yesterday in the office of the clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The property was sold by Jesse C. Fuller and Etha P. Fuller, his wife, William H. Fuller and Thelma C. Fuller, his wife, to John C. Devers and Mary Louise Devers, his wife. The parcel of land in Election District 12 near Frostburg is situated at the southeasterly side of Wright Street in Grahamtown.

Area Firemen Cite Phone No.

Residents of Wiley Ford and the territory covered by the volunteer fire company of that community are reminded that the telephone number at the fire hall for use in the event of a fire or other emergency is REDWOOD 8-8827.

William Fay Elder, president of the fire company, last night announced that a private line has been installed at the fire hall.

When a telephone call is received at the hall, the siren automatically goes off and keeps blowing until someone gets to the telephone and breaks the circuit.

The volunteers are asking that residents use caution in dialing in order that false alarms may be averted. The company is composed of volunteers who are available for emergencies such as fires, accidents and drownings.

50 Persons Plan To Take Poultry Tour Tomorrow

Fifty farmers and others interested in raising chickens have registered to take the poultry tour to be sponsored Friday through the South Branch Valley by the Allegany County Poultry Committee and University of Maryland Extension Service.

Stops will be made at the Joseph Fowler farm at Three Churches, Hampshire County; Randall's Gap poultry farm near Moorefield; Rockingham poultry processing plant at Moorefield; Ralph Harman broiler plant at Petersburg, and Petersburg poultry auction.

Scout Leaders Name Area Study Group

Some progress was reported at a meeting of registered adult Girl Scouts in First Methodist Church, Frostburg, for the purpose of forming an area Girl Scout Council.

At the request of Miss Helen Sellers of the national staff of Girl Scout headquarters, Washington, a study committee was appointed, comprised of two representatives from each interested community.

Arch M. Hutcheson and Mrs. Milton Beneman will represent Cumberland; Mrs. Albert C. Cook and Mrs. Gordon Taylor were named by Frostburg; Mrs. Orville Teets and Mrs. William Sears were named from Swanton; Mrs. Mary Riggs and Mrs. Audrey Edwards were named from Grantsville.

There were 64 adult scouts and leaders at the meeting representing towns in Allegany, Garrett and Mineral counties. This is half the area national headquarters has designated as desirable for an area council. The absent counties were Grant, Hampshire and Hardy, all in West Virginia.

The purpose of the study committee, according to Mrs. Joseph Williams, this city, a member of Region 3 committee, who presided and presented Miss Sellers, is to collect pertinent information on each community affected, so that vision is a long-range program. Questions asked at the meeting, time and study can clear up. She Miss Sellers noted, tended to show made it clear that this program is not mandatory.

Unenviable Job With Gratitude

Weather — that chameleon-like force which controls to a certain extent the everyday habits and efforts of all living beings and plants — is, understandably, the most universally-discussed topic. Unlike many of the pressures that influence men's lives, climatic conditions present too large a power for any individual to combat.

Thus an approaching storm leaves man in the position of being helpless to prevent what may be a disaster and able to protect himself and his family only if warned in time.

Thousands of Americans are employed in the various phases of weather reporting that all lead toward the common objective of alerting the citizenry. The information needed in compiling weather data is gathered through the combined efforts of private individuals and groups and various state and federal government agencies.

In addition to the inland and coastal weather stations and the weather planes of the Air Force there is a little known contingent of Coast Guardsmen aboard their small ships in the Atlantic that contributes greatly to the overall weather reporting structure. By international agreement the Coast Guard mans several ocean weather stations, each one consisting of 100 square miles of desolate, stormy ocean.

These Coast Guard cutters provide invaluable aid to all transatlantic ships and planes. Each cutter has a U. S. Public Health Service physician on board to care for ailing seamen who need medical attention at sea. An intermittent radio beacon is transmitted to guide transatlantic flights.

The cutter receives and passes on information of vital importance to ships and planes and is ready in an instant to answer distress calls. Additionally, four U. S. Weather Bureau observers on board each cutter radio their findings to Washington every three hours.

These Coast Guard cutters and the 120 men who man each one for periods of 30 days or more have earned the gratitude of not only every seaman and transoceanic aviator, but all Americans as well. Their job of recording the birth of a savage storm from a ship on the ocean is not an enviable one.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Floods

William J. Baxter, the eminent economist, who earns a living advising business men how to make money, has been giving away free advice about the weather, lo, these many years, but of course we go on ignoring Baxter and similar advisers who admonish us that we live in very great peril because the weather is changing; that the world is growing warmer.

That vast changes are taking place and very rapidly seems obvious to the naked eye but what relationship these changes have to our flood disasters, I do not know. Most of the data on the subject appears to me to be inconclusive to the layman who wonders what it is all about and generally blames his troubles on the atom bomb. We can accept the facts that the weather is changing and that floods occur in shocking profusion. We see photographs of such horrors as the damage caused by floods to Winsted or Waterbury, Conn., but farmers each year are damaged by small floods in the upper reaches of watersheds. What Noah must have been thinking when he built the Ark, we who lived through one of these floods, can now appreciate.

The Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture began studying this problem about three years ago. I personally witnessed what could happen when just such small floods occur; it means a rapid overflow of all basins, the carrying of rock and rubble down mountains to farms and roads; the destruction of unsurfaced country roads. The Soil Conservation Service estimates that upstream flood damage cost an annual average of approximately $545,122,000. Two-thirds of the damage was to agriculture. It would seem as though the farmer always pays.

Public Law 56, 83rd Congress, provides for local, state and federal cooperation in the handling of flood problems. Had the State of Massachusetts and the localities of that state cooperated in accordance with this law, it is likely that the frightful floods this summer, which did so much damage to cities in Connecticut, might not have occurred. At any rate, their disastrous effects would have been lessened. The Farmington River, for instance, could have been harnessed, but it was not done because of local opposition and now the cost is enormous, even in lives. The politicians, as usual, passed the buck.

The problem grows more serious every year. We are increasingly upsetting the balance of nature and the waters that need to be held in check by the complex of big roots in forests, will not be checked by cultivated farm land or by graded roads. When the wilderness goes, provision must be made for other means to hold the waters in check. What we saw during the 27 hours that the rain fell here in the Berkshires was that the ground did not absorb the water which everywhere lay inches above the soil within a few hours. At 11 p. m., on Thursday, August 18, before the flood was recognizable, for instance, my own driveway was covered with about three inches of water, despite the fact that I am at the top of a hill and the water ordinarily has a free run. The ground just could not hold more water. The next day, our mountain top was a pond.

It is fortunate that we are such a rich nation and that somehow we can pay for such enormous damages, but it would make more sense to spend our money scientifically and sensibly on conservation measures in advance of disaster. We seem to have plenty of money to spend in India and Pakistan and such places, but when it comes to doing any kind of constructive work within the United States, we are niggardly, and we grow increasingly niggardly. Had it not been so, the floods of the Farmington and Naugatuck Rivers might not have taken place.

At any rate, that is what the experts say and who can tell that they are wrong after what we have witnessed. We do know that because my neighbors here in Otis used their heads and the Otis Dam held, greater and more frightful loss of life did not occur. Next time, that dam, unsupported by other conservation work, may not hold and the entire Farmington Valley, a rich and beautiful area, might become a desert.

One Germany Unlikely For Long Time To Come

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — This might some day be called the "New Age of Noah," who took two of everything into the Ark. For now there are to be two Germanys, just as there are two Chinas and two Koreas and two Indochinas.

This means a continuance of the two Berlins for a long time to come. For there is, of course, to be no attempt at reunification anywhere by the use of force. This was the principle first laid down as American policy by President Eisenhower in his letter to Syngman Rhee early in 1953. It opens the way to political coercion and infiltration by the Russians, who have no further fear of military pressure.

Just as there were two Polands once and the Western Allies agreed to a "coalition" by which the Communists got the upper hand, so today the Soviet aim still is unification — Russian style — for all areas that are divided.

Present Unwelcome Possibility
Chancellor Adenauer felt he could do nothing else but agree to establish diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union if he was to overcome the criticism of his political opposition. But the net result of his action is to present the world with the possibility of the same experience it has had with the Soviet Union when Poland was taken over by the Communists in Moscow with a phony setup. Two Polish governments were converted into a puppet regime.

By establishing two Germanys, the Soviets can play one against the other and can make headway, particularly in West Germany by offering reunion to her at the price of giving up participation in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It means a delay in German rearmament. It means opportunities galore for political propaganda and infiltration by the Soviets.

The change which the Geneva conference made in the world situation will become apparent sooner or later to those Western statesmen who have deluded themselves with the idea that they are dealing with a conciliatory Russia. For not a single goal has been abandoned by the Communists. In fact, "peaceful coexistence" has turned out to be a propaganda achievement of substantial proportions because it has further removed from the world picture any use of military force as a deterrent of further aggression and opened the way to aggression by the Communists through so-called peaceful means.

Threat Of Force Removed

The Communists are pleased that any threat of the use of force in defense against aggression now has been abandoned. They are delighted that cuts in armament are being talked about by some of the Western governments. For it means that they can conduct their subversive tactics anywhere in the world without fear of reprisals of any kind. They are confident that, by releasing group by group the citizens of other countries whom they have held as hostages, the way will be opened to a removal of the trade embargoes.

When the Western nations commit themselves never to use military force unless attacked, they have no leverage left in negotiations with the Communists except economic force. When they surrender this instrument of international policy also, they cannot prevent aggression or the use of Soviet agents to stir up rebellions in areas where the Western countries now have political strength.

With the Near East and North Africa torn apart with local dissension, thus threatening the air bases of the Western powers, the "cold war" is moving on toward more and more triumphs for the Communists in achieving military objectives, too.

Surveying the world scene, the Communists have succeeded in lulling the West into believing that tension will be relaxed and that somehow a peaceful change is coming looking toward freedom rather than tyranny for those living in subjugation. But there is no evidence of it.

Bites By Bedbugs Can Cause Complete Collapse

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

There is never a dull day in medicine. Who would think that a physician would be called to treat a man having a heart attack which turned out later to be an allergic reaction to bedbug bites? There is a relationship between insect bites and allergy.

Most bites look and act like hives. Persons who develop tremendous welts, are more susceptible than those who hardly react at all. People who boast that mosquitoes never bother them are nipped from time to time but do not recognize the bites because they are not sensitive to insects.

Dr. D. J. Parsons, of Springfield, O., wrote recently about a man who was bitten by bedbugs and the ensuing reaction was mistaken for a heart attack. The victim worried so much about his heart he lost 20 pounds and three months of work. He and his employer were convinced that the old ticker was damaged beyond repair, which jeopardized future promotions in the company.

This man, who was traveling on a business trip, had gone to bed about 2 a. m. in a first class hotel. He awakened several hours later with severe itching of the right arm and noticed welts two inches across, with a puncture type mark in the center. The right side of his neck was swollen.

He called the desk and when the house detective came up, he found bedbug infestation. After killing some of the bugs the hotel employee persuaded the guest to return to bed. An hour later the salesman again awakened, this time because of a choking sensation. His arm was puffed to twice its normal size, and the neck was out even with the chin. He called an associate next door and collapsed on the floor.

When the hotel physician arrived, he thought the man was having a coronary attack and called in a heart specialist. The patient was hospitalized for this condition and although his symptoms suggested cardiac disease, the electrocardiograph and other tests failed to substantiate the diagnosis.

The physician then requested a fuller consideration of the bedbug aspect. Several bugs were obtained from the state laboratory and placed on the patient's body. Within a minute, the infested area began to itch, swell, and turn red. The patient's blood pressure fell and he became wan and faint. The bugs were removed and epinephrin was administered. The man's blood pressure and skin color returned to normal.

Why was this salesman so sensitive to bedbugs in the hotel? He told of having been bitten 11 years earlier with a somewhat similar

Housewife Now Pays More For Milk Although Farmer Is Getting Less

By Drew Pearson

Teamsters Union

WASHINGTON — I should warn my readers at the outset that I am prejudiced regarding the subject I'm writing about today. To some extent, I am also experienced.

Since a lot of city pundits and politicians, from Vice President Nixon to Pete Edson, are now expounding on the subject of farming, however, I might as well throw in my three cents worth, too.

The reason I am prejudiced can best be explained by the following: Two years ago, and just before Ezra Taft Benson kicked the price supports out from under milk, my monthly milk check was $6.05 a hundredweight—or 11.6 gallons. At that time the home-delivered price of Grade A homogenized milk in Washington and nearby Virginia-Maryland was about 24 cents a quart.

Today, after two years of Benson, the base price paid to the milk producer, the man who does the initial job of getting the milk out of the cow, has dropped to around $4.50 per hundredweight. Add some premiums to this for a clean barn and extra butter fat, and a good milk producer can get around $4.90. In other words, his price has taken the rather severe drop of $1-plus per hundredweight.

But while his price has been dropping, the retail price has been going up. Today milk retails to the housewife not for 24 cents a quart, but for 25 cents in the Washington vicinity.

In other words, the milk-drinking children of this area, instead of getting the advantage of the lower price paid me and other dairymen, get socked a higher price.

This, I hasten to add, is at least one thing not to be blamed on brother Benson. The blame — though a fairer word is reason — goes to the Teamsters Union and the cost of milk handling in the city. The milk driver who delivers milk to homes in the Washington area averages $100 a week for a five-day week. In some areas, such as Chicago, where he delivers large quantities of milk to stores, restaurants and hotels, his pay will run around $10,000 a year while in one or two cases it has reached $30,000 a year. This, however, is unusual.

The average dairyman in this area, on the other hand, is paid a top of $50 a week—and usually less. To be sure, he also gets free milk, a house and usually some meat. But he begins work at 3:30 a.m., sleeps a few hours during the day, always works six days a week and sometimes seven. He not only has to know how to coax milk out of an udder, but he must know something about mastitis, hoof rot, breeding problems and calf feeding. It's a skilled profession. And the man who lets infection get loose in his herd or fails to breed his cows on time can lose thousands of dollars before he knows what has hit him.

Farmers Can't Strike

The average farmer these days naturally gripes about the Teamsters Union and the high prices paid to deliver his milk. He will also gripe at the United Auto Workers and the 34-cents-an-hour wage increase and fringe benefits they have just got from International Harvester. For he knows that this means he'll pay a higher price for his tractor, disc harrow and mowing machine in a month or two.

The farmer also knows that he can't use the same weapon as the auto worker and the teamster to obtain a raise. For he can't strike. In the first place his cows can't strike. If they aren't milked they suffer agonies, eventually dry up and are a complete loss. Or if he raises other crops he can't go on strike by leaving his wheat or his corn or his soybeans in the field. He has too much money tied up, too much equipment, seed, fertilizer, labor invested. So no matter what the price, he has to bring his crop in. Sometimes, as in the case of melons or perishable produce, he'll dump them in a ditch rather than take the time and expense of marketing them. But most of the time he has to sell—no matter what the price.

So he gripes at organized labor, which can strike—even though the farmer knows that labor is not only entitled to a good wage but that, when labor is well paid, he, the farmer, usually prospers too.

The only trouble is that in recent years the farmer has been selling in competition with the world market while labor has been selling on the restricted, more protected, domestic market. Because of this, and because labor is organized while the farmer isn't, farm income, farm standards of living have been going down along with the price of farm products, while the income and general prosperity of the rest of the nation have been going up.

A lot of farmers have been giving up and moving to town. Some can afford to. Some have wives and families, like mine, who would shout hallelujah if I got over my stubborn streak and sold the dairy herd. But a lot can't afford to get out. They have too much money tied up in land and equipment; and sometimes they don't know any other profession.

Killian And Porkkala

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON — The President's highest scientific advisers have warned him, in the Killian Committee report that the Soviet Union is now overtaking the United States in the crucial air-atomic weapons race.

Meanwhile, America's leading diplomatic policy-makers interpret several of the most important recent Soviet moves, including the abandonment of the Soviet military base at Porkkala in Finland, as maneuvers in a well-planned campaign to advance the moment when the famous "American lead" will become a Soviet lead.

In this manner, two patterns that appear to be flagrantly contradictory — the pattern of the summit meeting at Geneva, and the pattern of the energetic and successful Soviet air-atomic build-up — actually fit together with remarkable neatness. In order to see where and how the fit occurs, it is only necessary to analyze a few of the facts that led the Killian Committee to its bleak conclusions.

In Transitional Phase
In the present period, according to the Killian Committee, we are in a transitional phase. The United States, while still having the edge in strength, is losing that edge to the Soviets. This is happening, in this period, because of the re-equipment of the Soviet Strategic Air Force and Air Defense Command with the new, high quality Russian long-range jet bombers, the "Bisons" and "Badgers," and extremely superior day and night fighters, the "Farmers" and "Flashlights."

The Soviets already have about 70 "Bisons"—which are intercontinental jet bombers comparable to our B-52, but believed by such experts as Severson to be superior to the B-52. "Bison" production is further estimated, probably rather conservatively, to be running at the rate of 17 aircraft a month.

The Soviets also have about 300 "Badgers," their B-47-like jet bomber, and "Badger" production is estimated to be running at the rate of about 30 per month. Finally, the "Farmers" and "Flashlights" have also been produced in substantial numbers, and it is believed that more than 50 of each of these types are being produced each month. Project these production rates, and you get the following three results:

Threat To U. S.
First, the Soviets will have a force of approximately 500 "Bisons" by the winter of 1958. This will be a sufficient force to constitute an exceedingly grave threat to the continental United States — perhaps ten times as grave a threat as the present Soviet force of short-range obsolescent, B-29-like TU-4 bombers.

Second, the Soviets will have a force of approximately 900 "Badgers" by the winter of 1958. This will be a medium range bomber force sufficient either to cow our allies into forbidding us to use our overseas air bases, or to suffice, if the need arises, to destroy those bases at the very outset of any war.

Third, the reconversion of the Soviet Air Defense Command will also be largely completed by the winter of 1958. At that time, the American Strategic Air Command's B-36s will still be SAC's most important aircraft of true inter-continental range. But the B-36s will then be thoroughly obsolete. SAC's medium range B-47s, therefore, will then be almost our whole strength.

Production-wise, this country is as yet doing very little to reverse this trend. Output of the American B-52s is now far below Soviet output of "Bisons." A substantial increase has been ordered, but even after the new level of B-52 production has been finally reached, Soviet output of true inter-continental jet bombers will still be ahead of American output. The American production picture in high quality day and night fighters is even more melancholy. This is why the one hope of maintaining a sort of precarious balance is the U. S. Strategic Air Command's large component of about 1,500 B-47s.

Unfortunately, however, overseas air bases are vital to the effectiveness of B-47s. By twice refueling in the air, a B-47 can reach some (but not all) Soviet targets from the United States. But the force of tankers for this refueling process is desperately inadequate to sustain operations that are not based overseas.

Striking Power Cut
In fact, according to official American estimates, the loss of the present overseas bases would cut the U.S. Strategic Air Command's sortie rate by something like 70 per cent—which means that SAC's striking power would thereby be cut by 70 per cent.

Precisely here, of course, is where the air build-up pattern and the Geneva pattern fit so neatly together. The overseas bases are threatened by the "Badger" build-up, on the one hand. On the other hand, if anything positive has come out of Geneva, it is the new impetus given to disarmament, recently boasted about by Harold Stassen. Point number one in the Soviet disarmament program, in turn, is the abandonment of all overseas bases, and especially all American overseas bases. If the Soviets can only get their way on this one point, they will cripple SAC, which is the only threat to the Soviet Union.

The Porkkala base in Finland is not very useful any longer, in the era of the new weapons. Its abandonment by the Soviets, however, gives the Kremlin an invaluable talking point with our allies. It immeasurably helps the campaign against overseas bases. Our allies, of course, will be more anxious than ever to believe that "the Soviets are going home, so perhaps it will contribute to peace if the Americans go home, too," when they are menaced by a large "Badger" force against which they have no defense whatever.

Shoemaker Set Down 10 Days At Belmont

Suspended For Ride In Cowdin Stakes

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Stewards at Belmont Park slapped a 10-day suspension on jockey Willie Shoemaker today, and the nation's No. 1 rider will not be able to pilot the Maine Chance Farm's Jet Action in Saturday's $100,000-added Synnoby Stakes.

Shoe was grounded effective tomorrow until Oct. 1 "for failing to maintain a straight course and interfering with Tick Tock in the stretch" during the running of the $29,675 Cowdin Stakes at the closing of the Aqueduct meeting yesterday. Shoemaker rode Bushers Fantasy, also owned by Maine Chance, and the 2-year-old colt was disqualified.

Jet Action and two other classy 4-year-olds, Helioscope and High Gun, are slated to meet the 3-year-old king, Nashua, in the mile and one eighth Synnoby. On Sept. 5 Shoemaker piloted Jet Action to victory in the $152,950 Washington Park Handicap, beating Helioscope in 1:34 flat, third fastest mile in racing history.

Elizabeth N. Graham, owner of Jet Action, visited her stable several hours before the stewards acted against Shoemaker. After conferring with her trainer, I. K. Mourar, about a substitute jockey, they signed Hedley Woodhouse.

The Synnoby was all the talk as Belmont Park opened its 25-day fall meeting, and most horsemen agreed that the Belair stud's Nashua would be a slight favorite at about 6-5.

Nashua with Eddie Arcaro up defeated Shoemaker and Rex Ellsworth's Swaps in their $100,000 winner-take-all match race Aug. 31 at Chicago. The Belair flyer had been beaten by Swaps in the Kentucky Derby for his only loss of the year.

Pacing Event To Be Broadcast

DELAWARE, Ohio, Sept. 21 (AP)—Officials of the "Little Brown Jug" announced today the American Broadcasting Co. will carry an account of the $66,000 three-year-old pacing event Thursday at 6:30 p.m. (EST). A coast-to-coast network will handle the broadcast.

Mays Cracks Into Fence

Willie Suffers Hip And Back Injuries

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Centerfielder Willie Mays of the New York Giants suffered a bruised hip and stiff back when he crashed into the bleacher wall at the Polo Grounds today trying for another of the sensational catches which have become his trade-mark.

The 24-year-old phenom, leading the majors with 50 home runs, was injured in the first inning of the second game in a doubleheader against Pittsburgh.

It was Dale Long's 450-foot triple that pulled Mays into the right-center field wall. Just before the accident, Mays had hauled in a long drive by Jerry Lynch with a leaping catch in deep center.

Mays was carried off the field on a stretcher and taken to a hospital for precautionary X-rays. The X-rays failed to indicate any serious injury and it was expected Mays probably would be able to play again Friday.

ECAC Waivers Granted Frosh

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Twenty-six of the 101 members of the Eastern College Athletic Conference have been granted waivers of the one-year residence rule for 1955 freshmen. Commissioner Asa S. Bushnell said today.

Freshmen athletes at the schools will be immediately eligible for varsity teams, starting with football.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—New York's Giants, the cream of major league baseball a year ago, made sure of a third place finish in the 1955 National League standings today by sweeping a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 7-2 and 7-3.

Two contests are set for today in the Grade School Touch Football League.

Rote Is Veteran

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—When Tobin Rote played quarterback for the Green Bay Packers against the Detroit Lions on Sept. 17, 1950 it marked the start of a streak. The 27-year-old former Rice Institute star played 60 straight games for Green Bay through the 1954 season.

checked the Pirates on a total of seven hits in the twinning.

Willie Mays, the Giants' frisky centerfielder, suffered slight back and hip injuries in the first inning of the nightcap, crashing into the bleacher wall while trying for another of the brilliant catches that have become his trade-mark. Mays, leading the majors with 50 home runs, was carried from the field on a stretcher.

Monzant, winning his fourth, gave just three hits in the second game—including a two-run homer by Frank Thomas. It was the 25th for the Buc outfielder.

Contract Bridge by Josephine Culbertson

PARTNERS TO BE AVOIDED

THE opponents' bidding and their early defense should have told declarer exactly what was brewing in the following hand, but he did nothing to ward off the clearly impending blow.

West dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

♠ 9 6 5
 ♥ Q 10 4
 ♦ A K 9 7
 ♣ 8 3 2

♠ A 10 7

 ♣ A Q J 10 6 5

♠ K Q J 8 3 2

 ♦ Q J 10 4
 ♣ K 9

The bidding:

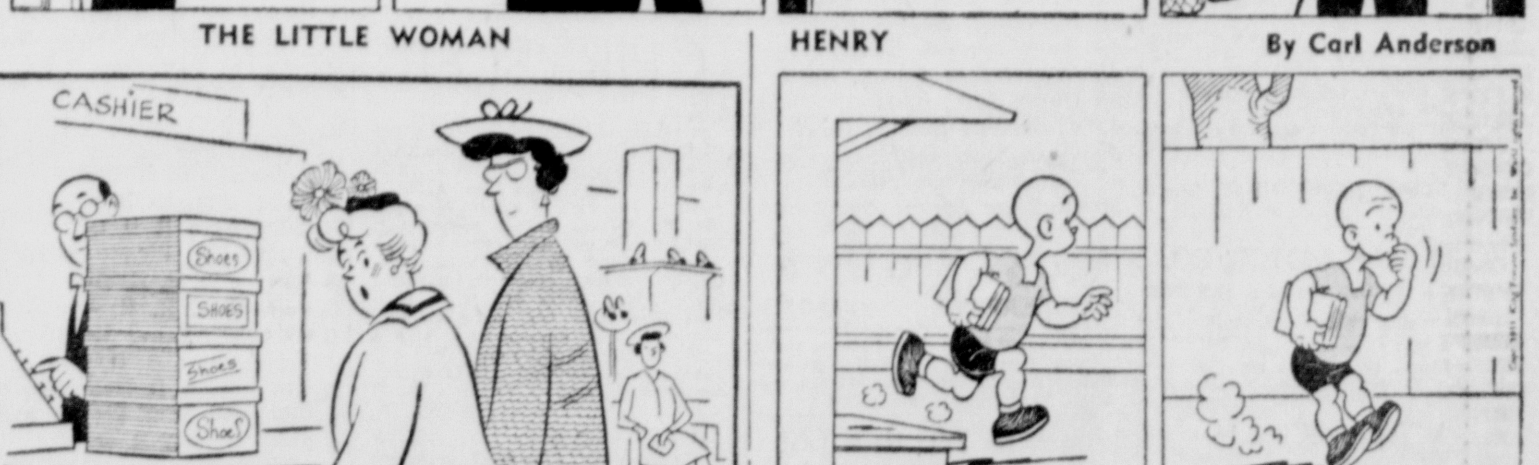

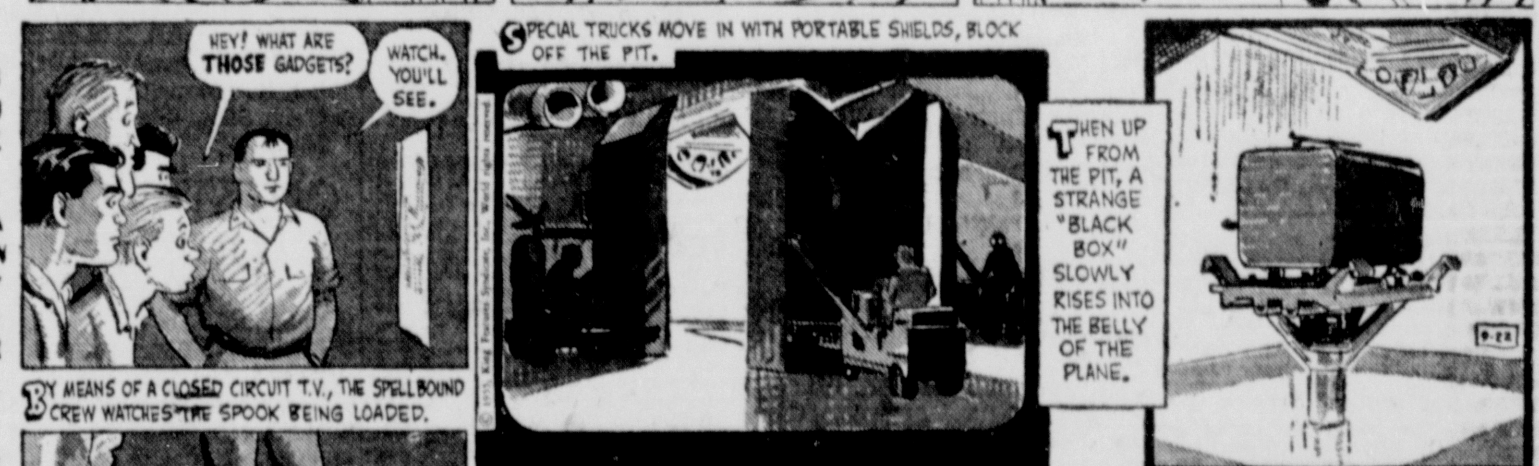

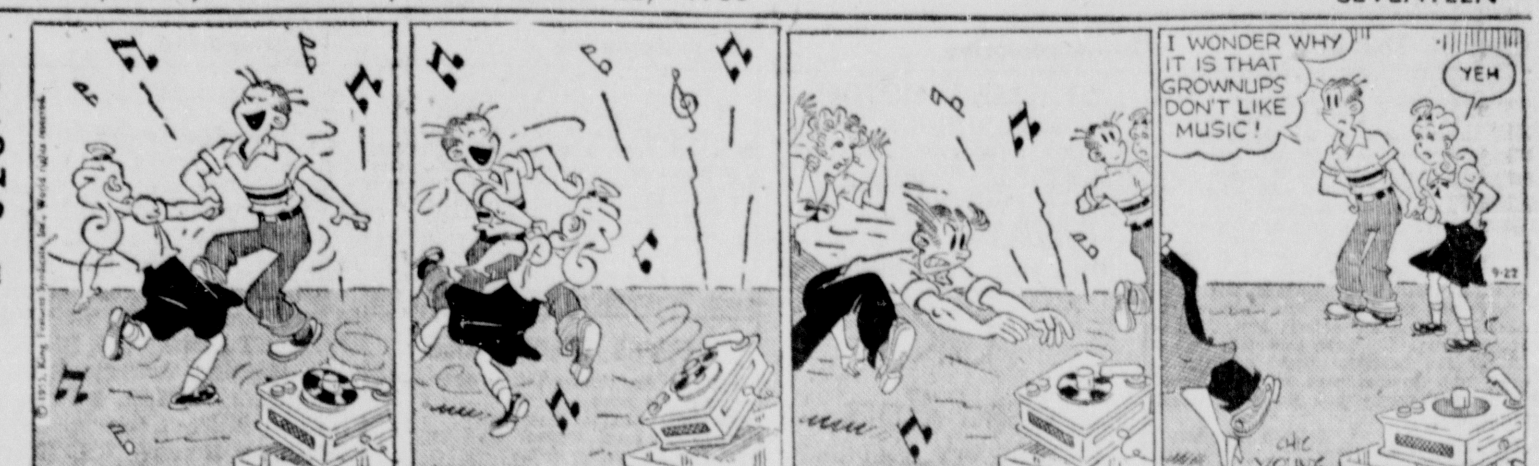

West North East South
 1♥ Pass 2♠ 2♠
 3♥ 3♠ 4♠ 4♠
 Dbie. Pass Pass Pass

The bidding was good all around, with each player bidding his cards for all they were worth. It is true that East might have persisted to five clubs inasmuch as the four-spade contract could have been made, but East's final decision proved to be right in the light of what did transpire.

West laid down the king of hearts, looked at the dummy and East's discouraging deuce, and then shifted to the club seven. East did not commit the error of putting up the club ace—he made the infinitely better play of the ten, thus leaving his partner with the second club for communication. South took the trick with the club king and, without even giving a thought to his obvious danger, laid down the queen of trumps. West lost no time in putting up the ace, and when he then led his club four to partner and East continued with another club, South was doomed. If he ruffed high, West would make his trump ten later; if South ruffed low, West would overruff on the spot.

Now note how very easy it should have been for South to protect himself. With the club situation clearly marked, and considering the strong probability that West had three trumps to the A-10, South should have gone in for some communication-cutting. After taking the club trick he should have led a diamond to dummy and discarded his remaining club on the queen of hearts, giving that trick to West. That was all South had to do to insure the contract.

Witness Beaten After Testifying In Murder Trial

Former Frostburger Being Tried In Ohio

One of the witnesses who testified for the state Tuesday during the murder trial of Leo Cavey, 43, former Frostburg resident now being held at Chardon, Ohio, was beaten about the body by two men just hours after she was on the witness stand.

She is Mrs. Mabel Lynch, who testified she saw Alva J. Williams, 30, the murder victim, in Cavey's car the day of the killing last spring.

Mrs. Lynch, who resides at East Claridon near Chardon, told authorities that she was at her home on Tuesday night. She went into the kitchen and before she could get the lights turned on, two men attacked her.

Windows Broken

On Sunday night, according to Chief of Police John R. Bohl, windows were broken out of the Lynch home. The sheriff's office and city police have questioned a number of suspects.

Cavey, who left Allegany County about seven years ago, went on trial at the Court House in Chardon on Monday. A number of witnesses, including the city police, have testified in the case being heard by a mixed jury of men and women before Judge Harold Richmond.

Chief of Police Bohl said the trial is expected to continue all week. Prosecuting Attorney James Dinsmore is presenting the case for the state and is being assisted by Thomas Rowley.

Police Testify

Representing Cavey are Emmanuel McGregor, of Chardon, appointed by the court, and Charles Goodwin of Cleveland.

Among those witnesses who testified for the state are Chief Bohl and Sgt. Walter Booker, who were led to the battered body of the victim by Cavey last spring.

Cavey told authorities he beat Williams, a wealthy coal and feed merchant, with electrician's pliers in an argument over a 90-cent debt, then hid the old man's body in a woodland area about seven miles from the scene.

The following persons were elected to fill vacancies on the executive committee: Mrs. Stanley Buckley, inter-group relations; Homer S. Higgins, juvenile protection; Mrs. Calvin Keiter, character and spiritual education; F. Allan Weatherholt, assistant publicity; Lt. W. Elwood O'Hara, safety.

Mrs. Lawrence Shafferman announced that the fourth annual Fellowship Dinner will be held September 29 at 6:30 p. m. at Frostburg State Teachers College. Dr. Harold Reese, former instructor at the college and now working with the State Department of Education will be guest speaker.

Invitations have been sent and reservations may be made with Mrs. Adam Baer, Frostburg, until Friday.

The next regular meeting of the County Council will be held October 3 at McCool School at 8 p. m.

Mrs. McGill noted that there are 28 schools represented in the Council, and each school PTA is entitled to five delegates at each of the four council meetings scheduled this school year.

New Industry Aids Entire Economy

By F. ALLAN WEATHERHOLT
News Staff Writer

Industrial development in any community is generally considered as a move in the right direction, economically, but in conversation with many people about just what a new industry means in dollars and cents to a community, there seems to be a great difference of opinion.

Some people say that after a new plant opens up, the town will boom for awhile, then level off again.

Others take just the opposite view and believe that one new industry means everything short of gold-paved streets.

Neither of these views is exactly correct.

Various financial, economic, research and study groups and organization over a period of time have attempted to compile figures to show just what a new industry does mean to any community.

While there is some difference in certain areas of research as well as in some geographic areas, the figures compiled here would seem to represent a reasonable accurate picture of what happens and what will doubtless happen here when Cumberland's newest industry, the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, goes into production next year.

The experts look upon industry largely in terms of payroll. But the super-duper experts, who like to know where and why and how and all the other ins and outs, go a step further and try to determine what happens to this new payroll.

Using figures designed for an average city the size of Cumberland, these economics calculate that an industry which regularly employs 400 people and pays wages based upon that area's average scale, will mean a new flow of close to a million dollars in payroll throughout the community annually. This figure varies according to the type of industry, skills required and so forth, but it seems a likely average for Cumberland.

They also calculate that an industry employing 400 people will cause a gradual increase in population of about 3,000 persons, figuring of course, marriages and births, over about an eight-year period. These people represent new mouths to feed and new retail customers.

The experts also agree that retail sales brought about by this new payroll will exceed the actual payroll by a ratio of almost five to three. In other words, for each three dollars of new payroll in a community, retail merchants can expect to do five dollars in new retail sales.

This factor of course follows, because dollars continue to change hands and either multiply or decrease, according to the manner in which they are spent or invested. It is also shown that "satellite" plants, services and personnel, needed to keep an industry of this average size going, add to the payroll. This figure is not a constant one, varies considerably, but does increase local payroll in no small degree.

It is further estimated that for each 100 new industrial employees in a new plant, there must be 16 professional people, such as lawyers, dentists, doctors, teachers and insurance men in the community to serve them. These people, too, some of whom will be new local residents, add to the volume of retail buying, property investment, savings and rental values of the community.

The equivalent of seven new retail and service establishments usually results for each 100 persons employed in a new industry. In a plant of 400 employees, it is therefore calculated that 28 to 30 new retail establishments will evolve, or the existing ones will expand their services and facilities to meet the need. Additional clerks will be necessary, again increasing local payroll and the amount of liquid cash in motion.

For each 100 employees, it is estimated that tax assessments will increase by a quarter of a million dollars upwards for new homes, new business improvements and other factors, exclusive of any assessment against a new industry itself.

Schools are affected too. For each 100 new industrial employees in a new plant, it is estimated that the ultimate need in class rooms will amount to a 14-room school and new facilities.

Churches, too, are affected by any influx of new people and growth in the population. The field of entertainment, such as motion picture houses, night clubs, athletic events and the like, will also feel the increased pressure of an increasing and spending population.

In Cumberland, however, where there has been some unemployment and heavy furloughs in the past few years, some of these figures may not apply in direct proportion to average national experience. But a new plant, employing 400 or 800 people, or any number, will add to the economy just that much, whether these people are new families moving in, or members of any idle portion of the community who have just obtained work.

Any predictions are risky. But economists agree that the figures shown here are about what can be expected when a new industry hits a town. The economy here has been showing many bright spots, and it seems reasonable to anticipate continued better business, better times, and a steadily growing community from now on.

More Prizes To Be Given At Cooking School Today

Homemakers who attend the third session of the Times-News-cooking school "Fashions in Foods" today at the Strand Theater will find a host of tasty recipes—and some worthwhile prizes—waiting for them.

The school is held at the Strand Theater for about two hours beginning at 9:15 a. m. daily. The theater opens its doors at 8:15.

At yesterday's session, Miss Geraldine Lien, lecturer in charge of the school, explained that homemakers are building their meals more and more around meat.

"The United States Department of Agriculture recently reported we're eating over a fourth more meat than we ate 20 years ago," she said. "Nutrition authorities tell us that as we learn more about the value of high-quality proteins, vitamins, iron and calcium, we're shifting from high-calorie foods to more protective foods — which means more foods of animal origin."

Misses Florence Gottshall and Deloris Smith are the capable assistants who keep things running smoothly behind the scenes while Miss Lien conducts the cookery demonstrations out front. They and the lecturer are experienced home economists on the field staff of the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Every homemaker in attendance has received a Fashions in Foods Recipe Book, which includes all the recipes demonstrated during the four days of the school, plus many others. There is also much valuable information in the recipe book on proper meat cookery methods, meat selection, menu planning and meat carving.

Despite the large attendance everybody has been seated. The Strand has approximately 1,400 seats and the daily attendance Tuesday and yesterday has averaged 1,300 each day.

Recipe books are given only to those who attend the Cooking School sessions which are sponsored by the Times-News as a service to Cumberland area people. Market sacks filled with gro-

Chest Industrial Division To Have $50,000 Goal

Classified Leaders Will Meet Friday

The leaders of the classified section or industrial division of the Community Chest campaign will be told tomorrow at 4 p. m. that their share of the $125,974 Chest goal is $50,000.

Charles L. Kopp, general chairman, pointed out that the classified division is in charge of contacting the employees of all local industries and businesses having eight or more employees.

The group leaders are: Group A, John E. Geare, industries; Group B, Coy Dyer, contractors and building suppliers; Group C, Ernest B. Treat, governmental agencies; Group D, Oscar Lashley, utilities.

Group E, Arch Hutcheson, consumer products; Group F, Paul Shircliffe, South End division; Group G, Thomas Conlon Jr., banks and auto dealers; Group H, C. William Seasholtz, mercantile; Group I, T. Victor Fier, and Group J, Winfield H. Adam.

Barnard said all volunteer solicitors in the classified division are being urged to advance the payroll deduction plan for employee giving.

In this way, a worker can give a small amount each week and never miss it, and by the year's end he will have contributed a good sum to the support of the Chest's nine agencies.

Yesterday at noon Barnard met with the heads of public utilities and hospitals of Cumberland.

City Tax Office Reports Heavy Early Receipts

The City Tax Office jubilantly reported that some $50,000 of taxes were paid yesterday.

Nearly 900 customers turned up yesterday waving their shocking pink tax bills, to pay their share of operating the City of Cumberland for another year.

Another $10,000 was received on Tuesday afternoon, the same day the bills were received in the mails.

George E. Davis, city tax collector, said the bills are normally mailed on the 24th of September, but were taken to the Post Office Monday at 4:30 p. m.

He predicted that the collections will reach the $200,000 mark by Saturday—the scheduled mailing date.

Collections will settle down a little in a few days, officials said, but from $25,000 to $30,000 is expected to come in each day for the next few weeks.

Another rush is expected shortly before and on October 24, the deadline for paying city tax bills without interest.

Interest at the rate of one per cent will be payable after the October 24 deadline, since the interest period goes back to August 24, the date the Mayor and Council set the all-time high levy and tax rate.

Interest at the rate of one-half per cent a month is charged for succeeding months.

The 1955-1956 levy totals $1,595,630, which is $90,380 more than last year. The current tax rate is $1.50 up 14 cents from 1954-55.

The overnight hike will be held October 1 in the Short Gap area, according to Marshall Nield, scoutmaster.

Members of the troop committee present at the roundup and corn roast were Richard Cook, Lowell Manning, James Taylor and A. G. Nield.

HERMAN W. MYERS

Local Man Gets Promotion In Social Security

Herman W. Myers, 27-year-old Cumberland native, has been promoted to the position of assistant supervisor and assistant office manager in the Wilkes-Barre, Pa., field office of the Social Security Administration.

Myers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Myers, 222 Pear Street. Well-known in Cumberland sports circles, Myers was graduated in 1946 from Allegany High School, where he played varsity football, basketball and baseball and was a member of the track team.

After graduation he went to work for the Social Security Administration as a clerk in the Baltimore office. He has worked for Social Security ever since 1946, except for two years of military leave of absence.

He entered the Army during the Korean War, attended Military Police School at Camp Gordon, Ga., and then was stationed at Fort Meade, where he later was honorably discharged as a sergeant.

He is married to the former Miss Helen Valentine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Valentine of Cumberland, who formerly was a nurse at Memorial Hospital.

Part of his extra activities at the Wilkes-Barre office included assisting in organizing a drive in which SS employees collected 800 cans of food for flood victims at Stroudsburg, Pa.

Myers' parent and his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Odgers, visited the couple in Wilkes-Barre last weekend.

New Polio Patient Is Hospitalized

Another possible case of polio has been reported at Memorial Hospital.

The latest victim who is suspected to have contracted the disease is Paul Luck, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Howard Luck, 35 New Hampshire Avenue.

The youth was admitted to the hospital last night and attaches said tests will be taken to determine whether or not he has polio.

His condition was reported as "good."

Meanwhile, four other polio patients, all reported in "satisfactory" condition, remain at the local hospital. They are:

Miss Carolette DeBouck, 17, of 117 Frederick Street; John Bailey, six, of Paw Paw; Mrs. Dorothy Babcock, 24, Jane Frazier Village, and Barbara J. George, 11, of 508 Baltimore Avenue.

Recently released from the hospital were Mary Louise Golden, Corriganville; Darlene Kay Lynch, six, of RD 1, Ridgeley and Robert S. Wolfford, 16, Eckhart Mines.

Good Weather Speeds Work On Sewage Plant

Stone Paving Of Levee Continues

Perfect fall weather is helping to speed the construction of Cumberland's $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant, Mayor Roy W. Eves reported yesterday.

The favorable construction weather has helped the contractor, Moyer Brothers Company, Altoona, to continue work without the frequent clean-up jobs needed after the heavy August rains.

During the past two weeks, crews built the forms for the second wall of the plant's primary digestion tank and began placing reinforcing steel for the chlorine contact tank.

Other crews excavated and poured piers for the plant's sludge beds and started laying pipe and constructing manholes for a 30-inch reinforced concrete pipe sewer.

The contractor also drove steel piling needed for excavation of the main sewage pumping station and for the 30-inch sewer line which will bring sewage into the plant.

Considerable work was also done on completing the fill inside the levee and the paving with stone of the outside of the levee, which is subject to erosion from the Potomac River.

Work on the big plant, needed to provide clear water for manufacturing purposes at the plant the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company is building at North Branch, was about 26 per cent complete, and a month ahead of schedule at the end of August.

City Officials Praised For Subway Plan

Mayor Roy W. Eves and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum were congratulated by the South Cumberland Business Men's Association Tuesday night for drainage facilities installed to reduce flooding of the Virginia Avenue Subway.

The project has been listed as urgent by the association for some time, since the section of the city south of the subway is isolated when the underpass is flooded by heavy rains.

City officials said yesterday the project was completed some weeks ago at a cost slightly under the $3,000 estimate.

The work included the installation of two catch basins on Fifth Street, one on Virginia Avenue and one in an unnamed alley between Fifth Street and Laing Avenue.

The additional catch basins, officials said, will collect and carry away storm waters which used to drain into and overtax drainage facilities in the underpass.

When the plans were prepared, city officials pointed out this work will correct the flooding problem, except when cloudbursts occur, but that the entire sewerage system is inadequate to meet such an emergency.

The new storm water drainage plan, officials said, worked well during recent heavy rains.

Scout Council Board Will Meet Tonight

The Executive Board of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America, will meet today at 8 p. m. in the council office, according to James C. Warden, president.

Plans for fall activities of the council will be discussed, he said.
